MEET THE TEAM

At the heart of our contract services sits a dedicated and growing Contract Team that delivers real results for clients across Tech, Sales, Finance and beyond. What sets us apart isn't just volume - it's commitment. Every consultant on our team shares the same mission: to find you highly skilled, immediately available contractors who align with your business goals and company culture. We bring a human, consultative approach - not just matching CVs, but building long-term talent partnerships by supporting your growth.

Heading this team is David Atherton, our Head of UK & Europe Contract Services. With over 15 years in recruitment, David has built a reputation for connecting top contracting talent with ambitious companies across the UK and Europe.

David's approach is rooted in deep market knowledge, strong relationships, and a consultative mindset. He works closely with a broad range of clients - from agile startups and scale-ups to global enterprises - helping them secure contractors who deliver impact from day one. Many of his client relationships have spanned a decade or more, built on trust, consistency and results.

Under David's leadership, our Contract Team has scaled thoughtfully and strategically. We prioritise quality over quantity: every contractor we present is thoroughly vetted and chosen not only for their technical skills but for their ability to integrate seamlessly and make an immediate contribution. If you choose to work with us, you're partnering with a team that treats your workforce needs with the same care and ambition we'd expect from our own.
