

How the Associate Project Manager Apprenticeship Will Benefit Your Business

The Business Benefits of the Associate Project Manager Apprenticeship

Build strong project capability in-house

A practical, work-based route into project leadership, building skills to plan, monitor, and deliver projects effectively.

Develop ownership of projects and workstreams

Equip staff to take accountability for defined projects and manage key delivery parameters effectively.

Strengthen cross-functional collaboration

Build capability to coordinate teams across departments and contribute to organisational change and improvement initiatives.

Grow internal talent pipelines

Reduce reliance on external recruitment by developing future leaders from within and replacing limited leadership pathways.

Cost-effective and aligned to business priorities

Offers a levy-funded solution that supports organisational goals while building long-term operational leadership capacity sustainably.

This Apprenticeship Covers:

- Project planning, scheduling, and delivery
- Stakeholder engagement and communication
- Budgeting, finance, and resource management
- Risk, issue, and change management
- Data analysis, reporting, and performance monitoring
- Collaboration, teamwork, and professional behaviours

The Content Will be Delivered Via:

- Workshops
- 1:1 support with a dedicated Trainer Assessor
- CMI Thrive digital learning platform
- Work-based learning applied to live projects
- Also, learners can work towards the CMI Level 3 Diploma in First Line Management for an additional recognised qualification